Forecast for Friday 28 Aug 2020

Weather: Overnight rain will turn light and clear southwards through Friday morning. Into the afternoon the cloud will break up allowing some sunny spells. Strong northeasterly winds will affect the area through much of the day with the potential for gusts to reach gale force on the highest peaks.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: Low cloud likely to affect mountain tops through much of the morning but clearing into the afternoon.

Visibility: Generally very good outside of rain. Poor at height in the morning.
